

UPDATES & ERRATA

Important Message!

Two projects in the first edition of the Against The Clock Dreamweaver Portfolio book were significantly affected by changes that Adobe made to the software in July 2022. If your printed book says “Second Edition” on the cover, you can disregard this errata.

If your book does NOT say “Second Edition” on the cover, you should follow the instructions in the errata listed below to obtain updated versions of the affected projects.

Project 3

In July 2022, Adobe eliminated the Extract panel and associated functionality that was required to complete the Arts Council CSS Website project in the first edition of this book.

A replacement version of this project has been created so that you can learn the techniques for placing and controlling images, as well as using CSS to control the appearance of elements in an HTML page.

Since you already own the Against The Clock Dreamweaver Portfolio title, the replacement project, in e-format, can be added to your account by clicking the following link:

2nd Edition – Arts Council CSS Website Project

Once you add the replacement project from the link above, the replacement Arts Council CSS Website project will be available in the View My eBooks block of your Account Page.

The Student Resource Files for this project are available within your original Student Files folder, named CAC_DW22_RF.zip.

If you have updated your Dreamweaver software since July 2022, be sure to use the replacement project provided, along with the replacement student files.

Project 5

If you downloaded the resources files for this book prior to December 2023, please re-download them. The original resources for this project contained an error in the navigation links on the index.html file.

UPDATES & ERRATA

Project 8

In July 2022, Adobe discontinued support for Adobe Edge Web Fonts that was required to complete Stage 3 of the CSS Grid Responsive Page project in the first edition of this book.

Again, since you already own the Against The Clock Dreamweaver Portfolio title, a replacement project, in e-format, can be added to your account by clicking the following link:

2nd Edition – CSS Grid Responsive Page Project

Once you add the replacement project from the link above, the replacement CSS Grid Responsive Page project will be available in the View My eBooks block of your Account Page. The resource files for the updated project are the same as in the first edition.

Be aware that you must have an individual-user subscription to Adobe Creative Cloud to use the Adobe Font functionality. If you do not have an individual CC account, skip Stage 3 and continue to Stage 4; your files will look slightly different than what you see in our screen shots, but the functionality explained in Stages 4 and 5 will work in the same manner.